ADVERTISEMENTS BENEWED EVERY DAY.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—ALL DISCOVERIES AND Univentions of approved value, as preservatives of health, or remedies for disease give rise, unfortunately, to peruisions counterfeits and imitations. The more popular the article, the more eagerly its nne, its credentials, its external appearance, are copied by unserupulous knaves, who, destitute of the ability to produce anything useful themselves, have just sufficient cuming to make capital out of the discoveries of others. It has been said that "hypocrisy is the homage which vice pays to virtue," and it might, with equal truth, be remarked, that the counterfeits of valuable remedies are the tribute paid by prison mongers to practical science.

The pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as horizon mongers to practical science, as the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as horizon mongers to practical science, as the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known world under the endorsementing the was introduced to the world under the endorsementing the association of the medical profession, some five endeading members of the medical profession, some five endeading members of the medical profession, some five and associative endeading the penalty statched to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with the strongest possible satinguated demists for analysis, and pronounced by them the pureat spirit ever manufactured. Its parity and properties having been thus association, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the acost embent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unsnimously favorable. Such a preparatic, they said, had long been what of the profession as no reliance could be placed on the ordhary liquors of commerce, all of the edition said, and long been wanting by the profession as no relatence could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unit for medicinal purposes. The occuliar excellence and strength of the oil of jumper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the schnapps, together with the unalityed character of the sicoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other difusive stimulant as a diurcitic tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genniaeness. Other precautions against frank were also adopted, a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the coals were realed with his private seal. No article had ever the holds that country under the name of schnapps prior to the continuence of the properties of the conlisted States District Quirt for the Southern district of New York, during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the privates who prey upon the regulation of homorable merchants by vending deleterious trasi under their name, that the protections so carcally the contheir mane, that the protections as carcally the contheir mane, that the protections are carcally the conhas been sincer, the endorsement which his Scheddan a

The public, the me lical profession and the sick, for whom the Scheidam aromatic schnapps is prescribed as a remody, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuice article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned in Scheidam, Holiand, is distilled from a bayley of the linest quality, and favored with an essential extract of the berry of the linking jumper, of unequalided purity. By a process unknown in the preparation of any other liquor, it is freed from every acrid and corrovive element.

Complaints have been received from the leading firms in many of the Southern and Western efficient of the sale of cheap initiations of the Pchiedam aromatic schnapps in those murkers, and travellers, who are in the half of using it as an antidote to the baneful inflience of unwholt-some river water, testify half cheap gin, put up in Schiedam bottles, is frequently palmed off upon the unwary. The agents of the undersigned would be a subject, and to forward to him the names of such parties as they may assertion to be engaged in the atrocious systen of deception. In conclusion, the undersigned would say that he has produced, from under the hands of the most of singular deception. America, proofs unanswerable of the purpose that he has seventhed many thousand dollars in surrounding the subject, and the has expended and himself against fraudulent instations; that the has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulteration, that the has shown it to be the only liquor in the world that can be uniformly depended upon as unadulteration, and the world water function and himself against fraudulent instations; that the shown is a surrounding that of the purpose of the incharged in the action of the world and the come every oreleas the preparation of the charlatass who counterfeit these evi

Nor is this all: more than three thousand physicians, among whom are numbered the greatest names belonging to the seculity of medicine in this country, here criticed, over their own signatures to the valuable medicinal properties of such an article as the severest chemical tests have proved the Fehiedam aromatic schnapps to be, and have accepted it as a most desirable addition to the materia medica. A pamphiet containing selections from the letters of about five hundred of the most distinguished of these practitioners has been published by the undersigned, and may be procured of his agents in New Orleans and other cities of the Union.

Such are the scientific inforsements under which the schnapps has been introduced into hospitals, dispensaries, and private medical practice, as a distretic, tonic and restorative, with striking and uniform success; while its agreeable flavor, and the absence of that caustic and destructive ingreatent known as "fusil oil,"—a poison which is present, to a greater or less extent, in all other forms of alcohol—have commended it to those who use spirituous liquor as an occasional beverage.

As a means of neutri izing the deleterious properties of unwholesome water, the Schiedam aromatic schnapps is absolutaly invaluable to the traveller. It will infallibly prevent the dysenteric and laxative disorders which attack strangers who use the waters of the Mis isappt, the Ohio, the Alabama and other Western and Southern rivers. It stimulates, in a moderate degree, the digestive organs, and thus enables the stemach to resist the otherwise disturbing initisences of the varieties of the universal fluid encountered on a journey. I beg leave to call the strenton of the reader to testimonials in favor of the schr apps:—

Mr. Udolfino Wolff — Dear sir—I cannot speak too highly of the purity of your Schledam schnapps. It is decidedly superize to anything of the kind in the market. It is perfectly perfectly anything of the kind in the market. It is perfectly free from the admixture of fasil oil or any of those arraylic compounds which produce such a mischlevou and irreograble effect upon the constitution, and which very few samples of alcoholic distilled liquors are without—most of them being largely impregnated with it. I have personally inspected the various processes of distillation practised at Schledam, and know that unusual care is taken to separate the zorious elevations processes of distillation practised at Schledam, and know that unusual care is taken to separate the zorious elevations and experiments. I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, &c.;—

I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it. Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genitournary apparatus. With much respect, your obedient servant,

From Dr. C. L. Leowans, Louisville Ky.—

I well know the difficulty of obtaining genuine, unadulterated spirituous liquors of any kind for medical purposes, and therefore rejoi lant is required, I should use the aromatic schiedam schnappas. Thanking you for your kindness, I am respectfully yours.

A. D. Chalones, M. D., 180 South Eighth street. The subjoned leiter from Dr. Paine, of Manchester, N. H., relaies to one of the most valuable medical properties possessed by the aromatic schnapps, and shows that it acts as a specific in a very painful disease—the gravel:—

Mr. Wolfer—Permit me to address you a few lines, which you are at liberty to use if you think proper, in respect to your medicine, called Schiedam Schnapps I have had a very obsilinate case of gravel and stone, of some five years' standing, causing very acute pair in every attempt to urinate. After using many temedies without much relief, I was induced to try a bottle of your medicine. In the course of three days it proved effectinal, disologing large pieces of stone, some of which were as large as a marrowiat pea. I continued the gain, and is fast recovering. I think a medicine of so much value in so distressing a complaint should be known to the public and the world at large. And I, for one, must give I my amprobation and signature. Thousa Paine, M. D. Prom Dr. John S. Reese, Chemist, Belkmore, Md.—A number of our physicians are ordering the article, and several having already prescribed it. Persons to whom I have sold it speak highly of lis qualifies. A gentleman of my own personal acquaintance having suffered greatly with an affection of the kidneys and hiadder, took two bottles, and subsequently pasced a stone of considerable size, and was greatly refleved. It will, no doubt, go into general use.

Dr. Chekeren, of Beston, writes thus.—

Having a dropsical case that I should like to try your schnapps upon, I am induced to accept your kind offer.
